was eminently successful. This morning two of our guns which had been emplaced overnight in the vicinity of the works captured from the enemy opened fire on Mo-Mullin's leager, on the main line of the Boer trenches, and the snemy's riege gun; all of which from our new positions were within the range of our guns. The object of this was to draw the fire of the siege gun and find out whether it was disabled or without ammunition and also to draw the fire of the men in the enemy's trenches and gain a notion of their numbers. The enemy's rifle was not very vigorous, but their siege gun replied promptly. though with orratic aim. . Eventually, how-

The enemy opened fire at sunrise this morning from seven guas-five 9-pounders, one 12 pounder, and a 100-pounder. The most vigorous bombardment which we have experienced during the siege ensued. The Boer slage gun alone has fired over 60 rounds already. Under cover of their artillery fire they made an advance, upon the northern face of our works, but retired preoipitately on coming within rife range, An advance was also made upon the south-western posts which are commanded by McKenzie, but the enemy were repulsed with one casualty. The force under Jan Cronje is evidently falling back before the advance of the relief column from the south and together with the two commandes retiring before Colonel Plamer is concentrating upon us for a final attempt to £751,123 10 -3 reduce the town. All the forts and outlying positions are manned. The whole garrison is standing to arms and severybody is under cover. We are convinced that this is the enemy's last attempt.

Bines I sent off my last despatch on the 27th the enemy has been absolutely quiet. On that day we experienced the soverest bombard. ment of the whole siege. Two hu dred and fifty shalls were fired into the town, while the s. d. 100-pounder fired 70. Two high-velocity guns from the Game Tree and Jackal Tree Forts fired steel-tipped, armour-piozoing, delay-notion projectiles intended for destroying armoured trains. These penetrated some of the bombproofs, but the casualties were few:
